BREATH-TAKING BUILD-UP!

Breath-taking is really the only way in which one can describe this year's pre-Olympic build-up. Competition in the season's international matches, national championships and Olympic trials meetings has been of the highest possible standard, with the U.S. Olympic Trials meeting at Eugene, Oregon one of the most remarkable events ever. England's A.A.A. Championships too, were probably one of the best-ever, with the weather and Dave Bedford's outstanding performances, as bonuses. Elsewhere in this edition TONY DUFFY and DON CHADEZ cover pictorially the A.A.A. championships and U.S. Olympic Trials respectively. At the time of writing the U.S.S.R. championships have just been completed, as have the West German, Czechoslovakian and French, all producing a crop of outstanding performances.

But let us return to the scene in Eugene: the U.S. Olympic Trials. The 800 metres final was the greatest race over the distance yet seen: 1:44.3, 1:45.0, 1:45.1, 1:45.2, 1:45.3, 1:45.4, 1:46.0 and 1:47.3 (1968 Olympic Final: 1:44.3, 1:44.5, 1:45.4, 1:45.8, 1:45.9, 1:46.2, 1:47.5 and 1:54.3). Hot favourites Winzenreid and Luzins, training partners at altitude for several months did not secure places in the final line-up (Winzenreid 5th in his heat in 1:49.4 and out; Luzins 3rd in his heat in 1:49.1 and last in his semi-final in 1:55.4, and out)! Bob Seagren soared to a new World Record in the Pole Vault with 5.63 whilst Lee Evans 'failed' in the 400 metres with a fourth placing at 45.1 (though he scrapes into the 4 x 400 metres squad in the Olympic Team!) and an off-form Randy Matson could manage only fourth placing in the Shot - just 12-centimetres away from a team place. Jim Ryun, 'crushed' to fourth place in the 800 metres with a mere 1:45.2, made sure of his place in the team at 1500 metres winning decisively in 3:41.5 - with a last lap time of 51.5 seconds. (Wottle, second in this event, was timed at 52.5 for the same stretch). Ralph Mann took the 400 metres hurdles title with 48.4 - a time second only to Hemery's World Record 48.1 set 4 years ago; Steve Prefontaine clocked the World's fastest 5000 metres (soon eclipsed by Dave Bedford); Pat Matzdorf and Reynaldo Brown were unable to qualify for the U.S. team with 2.15 apiece in the high jump (finishing 5th and 4th respectively); Hodge retired from the Decathlon, whilst Wanamaker finished 16th (and last) with 6514 points.

DOUBTFUL TIMING

The speedsters we have left until last - because we doubt the authenticity of the officially announced performances. The announced World Record times of 9.9 seconds credited to Hart and Robinson, and those for the other placers of 10.0 to 10.2, are the results of hand timing, as are times announced for the 110 metres hurdles (13.5 to Hill, 1st., and Davenport, 2nd., and the rest - 13.6 to 13.7) and 200 metres (20.4 to Chuck Smith, 1st., 20.5 to Lawry Burton, 2nd., and the rest - 20.6 to 21.1). Our evidence for certain doubt you can see yourself from the digital electric-timer shown in the photographs of both 100 metres and 110 metres hurdles finishes. Since photofinish apparatus is now widely available and in use, it seems most unfortunate that a meeting of the importance of the U.S. Olympic trials should not make use of this most reliable equipment. You will, in this respect for instance, notice that the timing device apparently records 10.08 secs for the 100 metres as opposed to the officially released hand-timing of 9.9 seconds, and in the 110 metres hurdles 13.58 to the official 13.45 (13.5)! The I.A.A.F. would be well advised to consider such discrepancies when reviewing World Record and other record applications.

HELP OR HINDRANCE?

One other important factor for consideration: the siting of the digital clock-face of the timer as shown in the photographs is surely an aid to competitors in excess of that intended by the I.A.A.F. when drawing-up and/or amending rules for competition? Alternatively, of course, it could also be a hindrance, where competitors in any event in excess of 400 metres attempting to see lap times, might well trip or run into another athlete? However, this 'problem' could easily be remedied by resiting the clock-face. Nevertheless, Eugene '72 will still go down in athletics history as the greatest meeting ever, outside the Olympic Games'. In the next issue: more ponderings for the I.A.A.F.

CHEVRON'S 440 SELECTED FOR Xth BRITISH COMMONWEALTH GAMES!

Judging over 30 different track surfacings for (1) performance in competition, (2) durability and maintenance, (3) installation, (4) short term cost, (5) long term cost, the Organizing Committee of the 1974 British Commonwealth Games chose Chevron's 440 for their new track in Christchurch, New Zealand. To find out why Chevron's 440 synthetic surfacing system could be the right choice for your next track, write Mr. Roger Zink, Chevron Asphalt Company, P.O. Box 3069, San Francisco, California 94119, USA.

HISTORICAL

Films, an invaluable aid to both coach and athlete, are also of historical interest to the collector and many now build film libraries as one does with books or gramophone records. Hary, Brumyel, Connolly are 'collectors items', and by linking singly purchased loops you can 'make' your own full-length historical epic or technical study of the sport's all-time greats of past and present. All films listed are available in 16mm, 8mm or Super-8. Start your own collection now - and watch it grow quickly.

The Guide to British Track and Field Literature 1275 to 1968

The earliest significant reference that can be traced in British track and field literature by the authors is the description of the stone-putting contest in 'Havelok the Dane' (1275).

The plethora of publications in recent years (more than 260 in the past ten years) has resulted in almost 900 works being included in section II—the bibliography—with a four-way cross-reference through the indexes of authors and titles and the guide to subject matter, enabling any work to be traced from even the most scanty information.

The Guide to British Track and Field Literature is a monumental work, and the result of many years intensive research on the part of the authors and their many contributors, and its advent has been eagerly awaited by students of athletics literature throughout the world. The Guide will be welcomed by librarians, publishers, collectors and historians alike as the standard work of reference—the first complete listing of such literature. College students and coaches too will undoubtedly find The Guide invaluable.

The extensive quotations included in the bibliography are in themselves a 'history' of the sport in Britain from the thirteenth century until the present day.

About the Authors

Tom McNab

TOM McNAB, a National Coach to the Amateur Athletic Association since 1963 and coach or adviser to many leading Internationals, is an avid collector of historical track and field literature, possessing one of the finest collections in the United Kingdom. His speciality as a coach is the Triple Jump, and he is author of the A.A.A. Instructional Booklet for the event. He was holder of the Scottish National record from 1958 to 1964 and Scottish Champion four times as well as being a very good performer in a number of other events including the Decathlon. He was also an outstanding Soccer player and Rugby Footballer.

McNab is a regular contributor to many athletic journals, sports magazines, newspapers and Physical Education publications and is also an historian with a special interest in professional athletics and the Highland Games.

Peter Lovesey

PETER LOVESEY, now regarded as the world's foremost athletics historian, began his career as a writer on the subject with publication of the first in a long series of enthralling articles in the magazine 'Athletics Arena' in 1963. Since then his reputation as a painstaking researcher as well as an historical writer with an unusually attractive and exciting style has spread throughout the world, with his articles being translated into a dozen different languages. In 1968 he ventured into the hard-back sphere with 'Kings of Distance' (Eyre & Spottiswoode). This is the study of five great distance runners and was probably the first real history book produced about athletes.

With 'The Guide to British Track and Field Literature' Lovesey has, in company with TOM McNAB, ventured into a hitherto unexplored field. His position as Senior Lecturer in English at Thurrock Technical College has undoubtedly strengthened his ability both as a writer and research specialist.

The combination of the various outstanding talents of these two specialists is the major factor when determining the unusual value of The Guide not only as a reference book but also in itself as a history of 700 years of the sport in Britain.

WORLD RANKINGS

(Marks reported by 03.00 hrs - 24th July 1972)

COMPILED BY BOB SPARKS

In the Editorial of this edition, we cast the strongest doubts on the authenticity of officially announced performances recorded by means of hand-timing, and pointed to the apparently strange discrepancies at Eugene, Oregon, during the U.S. men's Olympic Trials, where photographic evidence seems to indicate a sizeable error-factor. In these lists, therefore, Sparks wishes to make quite clear that hand-times are to be held in strong doubt in both men's and women's 100 and 200m, the 100m hurdles and 110m hurdles and the Decathlon and Pentathlon. In the men's 100m and 110m hurdles he has illustrated this, but goes further by pointing-out that in the women's 400m, Zehrt's 51.0s. was photo-timed at 51.08s., compared with Neufville's 50.97. The EDITOR.

The RANDY MATSON Story.

In the Tokyo Olympics, a rangy 19-years old Texan, Randy Matson, in his first full year of 16-lb shot putting, narrowly missed the shot Gold. His silver 66'3 $\frac{1}{2}$ " made him 2nd-best in the event's history. Carlton Stowers tells of the life and athletic career of history's greatest-ever shot-putter in an enthralling, well-illustrated story (186 power-packed pages) to inspire all, not least the shot-putter. PRICE: £ 2.75.

leistungssport

"Leistungssport", published by the West German Sports Federation (in German), is a bi-monthly magazine of a highly technical nature which, nevertheless, is intended to be of guidance to senior coaches, club coaches, P.E. teachers, P.E. students and athletes alike.

This scientific coaching review covers every aspect of the development of high performance in all sports. The contributors themselves come from every division in sport: the practitioners - coaches, athletes and other sportsmen and -women; the theorists - Doctors, Psychologists, Sociologists, Teachers, Biometricians etc.

The aim of this periodical is to analyse and compile a collection of the best material available on all sports, including that of foreign authors (translating where necessary), particularly from East Europe.

STRENGTH, POWER AND MUSCULAR ENDURANCE FOR RUNNERS AND HURDLERS

BY JOHN JESSE

The remark is often made that the best training for a runner is running. But there comes a time for every runner and hurdler when an hour or so of weight training three times a week will do the athlete more good – and make him a better runner or hurdler – than another hour of training. Weight training can give the sprinter or hurdler extra strength and explosive power in the muscles used in starting and running at top speed. For the middle-distance and marathon runner it can add upper body and abdominal strength to complement the strength and endurance of the legs.

STRENGTH, POWER AND MUSCULAR ENDURANCE FOR RUNNERS AND HURDLERS presents a simply written and clearly understandable analysis of the advantages of weight training for all runners and hurdlers. Special emphasis is placed on developing an optimum level of strength, power and muscular endurance in muscles involved in the skill movements without, in any way, detracting from the maximum development of speed, flexibility, and circulo-respiratory endurance.

This book offers exercises for sprints, medium and long distance, cross-country, marathon, hurdling and the steeplechase. All exercises presented are functional and have a direct relationship to the event. The suggested weight training programs can be used by the athlete without an elaborate weight room or a great deal of equipment. The anatomical illustrations provide the athlete with a better understanding of the muscles he is strengthening when performing a specific exercise.

Emphasis is placed on year-around conditioning and the simplicity of the entire program enables the athlete to remain in top physical condition. All exercises can be performed at school or in the comforts of the home during the evening. This allows the track coach to spend his time teaching skills and techniques rather than trying to whip his athletes into shape. The chapter on Injury Prevention alone is worth the small price of this book. The techniques and exercises presented will assure the athlete that injuries that generally plague a runner or hurdler will rarely occur.

STRENGTH, POWER AND MUSCULAR ENDURANCE FOR RUNNERS AND HURDLERS was prepared for the athlete who has the desire and is willing to pay the price to become an outstanding runner or hurdler.

BOOK OF THE MONTH: SAVE £1.25!

OLYMPIC DIARIES 1960 & 1964

This is actually a 'two for the price of one' offer (each book listed at £1.25 plus 15p post/packing now offered at two for £1.25 plus 30p post/packing). Neil Allen's OLYMPIC DIARY ROME 1960 and OLYMPIC DIARY TOKYO 1964 are written in the form of day-by-day diaries (the latter illustrated) and in Allen's own inimitable style. Neil Allen attended both Olympic Festivals in his capacity as a journalist, and therefore has been able to capture the behind-the-scenes atmosphere of the Games' as well as the moments of triumph and heartbreak of the athletes, inside and outside the arena. These are two books (available again only in limited quantities) that should be on the shelves of any enthusiast of the sport.

LIST-PRICE: £2.80 (Overseas: US$ 7.90). SPECIAL SUBSCRIBER PRICE: £1.55 ($4.50)
