

W. J. KEATING

W. J. KEATING, of the Irish-American Athletic Club, is without doubt one of the best sprinters in the United States.

In 1907 Keating won the National A. A. U. Junior 220 yard championship, running the distance in 22 1-5 seconds.

In 1908 Keating won both the 100 yard and 220 yard Metropolitan championships, and later in the year won the Senior National 220 yard championship.

In the Indoor championships of 1909-1910 Keating won the indoor title at 75 yards.
